Asset Recovery Services

Out with the Old, In with Opportunity

Lenovo

Lenovo Asset Recovery Services turn old technology assets into more value.

When it's time to replace your technology, you're stuck with the problem of what to do with the old hardware and all the corporate data connected to it. Lenovo Asset Recovery Services solve this challenge with an end-to-end, environmentally compliant solution for the secure disposition of old technology assets and data. Designed to maximize the value potential of any re-marketable assets and responsibly recycle the rest, the seamless asset recovery and disposal solution delivers more peace of mind—and more cash in your pocket.

Make Room for Better

Technology updates are inevitable. They can be a line item—or an opportunity. Lenovo Asset Recovery Services eliminate the headache of your old hardware disposal with one integrated solution that helps prevent e-waste, data compromise risks, and compliance issues. Drive sustainability with certified, environmentally responsible recycling. Drive value with an asset resale process that gets more from your hardware, right to the very end. And drive progress with a solution that handles all the hassle so you can move forward worry-free.

- Simplify asset disposal with hardware takeback—any brand, any product
- Mitigate data security risk with data sanitization or destruction services
- Maximize asset recovery value for re-marketable assets
- Minimize disposal costs with best-practice hardware recycling
- Certify compliance with data and environmental regulation

Easy for you. Easy on the environment.

Lenovo's comprehensive Asset Recovery Services make your transition to new technology a smooth one. The solution includes the secure takeback of your old technology assets—absolutely any product, any manufacturer.
