Security going soft? Eaton has the Edge.

Protect your perimeter on all sides

Responsibilities for IT personnel continue to expand, but limited budgets often force unwanted compromises. With the growth of BYOD, IoT and Cloud, there are more entry points to access your data than ever before. And more entry points translates directly to greater vulnerability. What was once a solid barrier is now more like a chain-link fence. Physical security measures like TANlock or MiniRAQ can lock down your data.

CHOOSE TANLOCK OR MINIRAQ, BASED ON YOUR NEEDS:

Eaton TANlock0 Access Control System

- ❯ RFID multireader option for authentication
- ❯ Simple installation - no additional hardware required
- ❯ For localized security deployments

Eaton TANlock3 Access Control System

- ❯ Integrates with Virtual Power Manager (VPM) and Visual Capacity Optimization Manager (VCOM)
- ❯ Dual authentication
- ❯ No peripherals required
- ❯ For remote management and monitoring

MiniRAQ: Three options, two sizes

- ❯ Available in compact and tall, up to 35 inches
- ❯ Mix and match options to future-proof your business
- ❯ Easy installation saves time, smaller footprint saves space
- ❯ Capable of supporting up to 400 pounds
- ❯ Ideal vertical rack enclosure for wallmount Edge IT and power management equipment

Security begins inside the four walls. An impenetrable remote datacenter isn't much good if you've hung a "Welcome, Hackers!" sign on your front door.
