

Managed extended Detection & Response for Microsoft

Secure your business with simple, affordable enterprise-grade protection

Risk is everywhere in your modern business environment. But we've got you covered.

Many organizations have invested in the Microsoft security stack, including Microsoft Sentinel, and rely on SilverSky to help maximize both Microsoft security and other security technology investments. We can configure or optimize Microsoft Sentinel to ingest your valuable security data, and ingest security logs into our Lightning Portal to monitor, manage and respond 24X7 on security events.

In our always on complex business world, both key business assets and the risks they pose can be on- or off-premise, and across the world. You need to protect the way you do business today and prepare for cybersecurity challenges which can become barriers to your success:

- Finding security resources in the midst of a talent shortage
- Managing multiple non-integrated point solutions
- Reacting to the right alerts in a sea of data
- Being able to sleep at night

SilverSky Managed extended Detection and Response (MxDR) for Microsoft helps you eliminate the barriers to better security. We manage your Microsoft Sentinel, monitor real-time alerts and events triggers, filter out false positives, and investigate attack patterns. Guided response to events through both automation and human-led interventions optimize risk reduction. Our managed services model makes protecting your modern environment simple and delivers effective cybersecurity protection in a way that fits your business – and your budget.

Hybrid Approach

For organizations who are concerned about data storage and processing cost increases using the full Microsoft security stack, SilverSky offers an alternative approach. SilverSky will provide ingestion of all Microsoft technologies into Microsoft Sentinel and all logs from non-Microsoft devices such as routers, switches and firewalls directly into our Lightning Platform. This leverages the “free ingestion” available today in Microsoft Sentinel and cost-effectively ingests security logs from hundreds of different data types into our Lightning Platform. SilverSky Hybrid MxDR: a comprehensive monitoring and response 24x7 at a predictable, affordable cost. SilverSky protects your organization so that you can focus on your business and get a better night's sleep.
