

The proliferation of Chromebooks, MacBooks, notebooks and various iPads & tablets in the classroom, has led to a quest for efficient storage & charging equipment and methodologies. These solutions, though, have often presented other problems such as long lines of students at the multi-bay charging cart causing delays and back-ups and, ultimately, cutting into teaching time.

Perhaps it's time to "divide and conquer", as in; "divide" the class the class into zones, and "conquer" the problem!"

Enter Belkin's ten-at-a-time storage and charging solutions. These "Store and Charge" products are engineered around ease of use and quick deployment.
