The Customer

The Dominikus Hospital in Berlin, Germany ("Caritas-Klinik Dominikus") is an emergency hospital with numerous specialist departments including surgery, orthopedics, maternity, and radiology. Caritas-Klinik Dominikus has been an integral part of medical care in Berlin for almost 100 years, offering high-quality medical care, individually tailored therapeutic options, and both social and pastoral support for patients. The hospital is part of the Carita-Krankenhilfe group, which operates four hospitals, two medical centers, a hospice and a nursing academy, across Berlin and Brandenburg.

Challenges:

- To Plan and implement a state-of-the-art network
- Always-on wireless access that could easily handle the hospital's time-critical applications
- To provide high-performing connectivity for healthcare systems,
- To reduce IT administration overhead.

Unlike other manufacturers, Allied Telesis provides a real partnership, with competent and dedicated support from A to Z.
