

For the new world of work

Financial services is more competitive than ever. Empower professionals with the right information, wherever it's needed.

Technology is disrupting the landscape of financial services. Organizations must become more agile and deliver new customer experiences—while maintaining tight control of sensitive data in an evolving regulatory environment.

Microsoft Surface for Business devices empower firms to balance those objectives and deliver their best at the point of service.

Surface offers fast, secure access to customer, product and market information, so you can deliver timely expertise and advice wherever and whenever it's needed.

“Surface triggered a huge change in sales for the representatives in the field. It has helped us to be a lot more agile and mobile, to respond better to the needs of our customers.”

Georges Tavernier, Deputy Director of Sales, Vaudoise
