We do more than Managed EDR – and Multi-Signal Matters

- ✓ eSentire MDR means multi-signal telemetry and complete response
- ✓ We provide comprehensive visibility across your layered attack surface, delivering rapid correlation, deep investigations, and multiple points of contextual awareness + response
- ✓ Our signal sources include network, endpoint, log, cloud, email, and identity

One platform. Your complete attack surface protected.

- ✓ Our eSentire XDR Platform provides security, reliability, and redundancy at scale and on demand, so our services can grow with your business
- ✓ Our scalable, distributed platform continuously ingests and correlates millions of threat signals across your environment, giving you complete attack surface visibility
- ✓ Patented machine learning models and artificial intelligence applications eliminate noise and automatically block known high-fidelity malicious threats, including zero-day attacks, every single day
- ✓ Automated defenses block malicious IOCs and IPs known to eSentire over 3M times per day
- ✓ The eSentire XDR Platform learns with each detection, correlating and amplifying detection measures across our global customer base to deliver proactive Security Network Effects

24/7 LIVE support anytime and every time you need it most

- ✓ 24/7 SOC Support for security event monitoring and eyes on glass
- ✓ 24/7 Threat Hunting across our XDR platform, Elite Threat Hunters and Threat Response Unit
- ✓ 24/7 On Demand Incident Response as a retainer model with the industry's only 4-hour threat suppression SLA, anywhere in the world

We support your end-to-end risk management with strategic services, threat disruption and incident response offerings

- ✓ Exposure Management Services - Proactively identify security gaps in your environment and build comprehensive security strategies that scale with your growing attack surface.
- ✓ Managed Detection and Response - Combine cutting-edge XDR technology, multi-signal threat intelligence and 24/7 Elite Threat Hunters to help you build a world-class security operation.
